

CONFLICT OF INTEREST POLICY

Introduction

8tech Ltd, hereinafter referred to as 'the Company' is entrusted with the stewardship of our client's money and this is a responsibility that we take very seriously. Our reputation as a responsible, considered broker is important to us and we seek to be above reproach. A conflict of interest prejudices or can be seen to prejudice an individual's objectivity and ability to act in the best interests of the company or our clients.

The Company seeks to comply with all relevant legislative obligations but aims to set higher standards when it comes to protecting our reputation.

This policy sets out the standards set by the Company with respect to avoiding or, where this is not possible, mitigating potential and actual conflicts of interest. It encompasses conflicts that can manifest as a result of the staff member's personal interests and relationships as well as business interests and associations.

This policy has been approved and adopted by the Board of Directors.

A. Our Obligation

We are obliged to manage fairly conflicts of interest, both those that arise between ourselves and any of our clients and those that arise between two or more of our clients.

Consequently, we maintain and operate effective organisational and administrative arrangements to take all reasonable steps to identify conflicts of interest and to prevent such conflicts from constituting or giving rise to a material risk of damage to the interests of our clients. We also maintain a written conflict of interest policy appropriate to the size of our firm and the nature, scale and complexity of our business.

B. Scope

This policy applies to all staff of the Company.

C. Oversight

This policy is subject to monitoring and oversight by the Company's Compliance function.

D. Accountability

- i. Staff is accountable for reading, understanding and complying with the standards and processes contained in this policy. Staff is encouraged to bring any situations where significant conflicts of interest exist and which are not covered by this policy to the attention of the Heads of departments.
- ii. Management is accountable for ensuring that the processes and controls in their departments are designed to avoid and manage conflicts of interest for their teams.
- iii. Compliance is accountable for ensuring that this policy is aligned with regulations, as they may change from time to time; for monitoring processes and controls to ensure compliance with this policy and for reporting any breaches of this policy according to the Company's compliance escalation framework.
- iv. Executive Management is accountable for resolving any agreed breaches of this policy and for maintaining business structures and functions that enhance the Company's reputation.

Breaches and Enforcement

Non-Compliance with this policy may be handled in terms of the Company's disciplinary procedures.

The Board from time to time will also provide necessary guidance enabling identification, elimination or management of conflict of interest situations and shall review the compliance of this Policy periodically.

2.0 Personal Conflicts of Interest

We have identified the below particular personal conflicts of interest as the most important.

- Anti-Bribery Policy
- Personal Account Dealing Policy
- Disclosure of Director Interests
- Disclosure of Staff Interests
- Second Jobs
- Remuneration

3.1. Anti-Bribery Policy

The Company prohibits:

the offering, the giving, the solicitation or the acceptance of any bribe, whether in the form of cash or other inducement, to or from any person or company, wherever they are situation and whether they are a public official or body or private person or company by any individual employee, agent or other person or body acting on the Company's behalf in order to gain any commercial, contractual or regulatory advantage for the Company in a way which is unethical or in order to gain any personal advantage, pecuniary or otherwise, for the individual or anyone connected with the individual.

3.2. Personal Account Dealing Policy

It is the Company's policy to permit personal account dealing by staff members in a managed and controlled process.

In brief, the Company's staff are not permitted to trade in any instrument while client portfolios are in the market with respect to those instruments, regardless of the direction. Nor are they permitted to trade while an instrument is under consideration for inclusion, exclusion or variation in client portfolios.

All personal dealing performed or influenced by a staff member, including dealing by an associate of the staff member, must be disclosed and pre-approved in terms of a defined process.

The policy and process is available at: Personal Account Dealing Policy.

3.3. Disclosure of Director Interests

All Directors and officers who attend Board meetings or audit committee meetings must regularly disclose their personal financial interests to the Board regardless of whether such interests represent an actual or potential conflict with the Company's interests. This disclosure is noted by the Company Secretary and retained as a record of proceedings.

3.4. Disclosure of Staff Interests

Staff members with interpersonal relationships with suppliers or counterparties and who have any decision-making influence over the commencement, continuation or termination of the business relationship, or are involved in the provision of services or products by that supplier or counterparty, must:

- i. disclose such relationship in email to their direct line manager and
- ii. ensure independent oversight by someone with knowledge of the interpersonal relationship over processes such as tenders, appointments, reviews, benchmarking or contractual negotiations.

3.5. Second Jobs

A second job may create a conflict of interest for staff members. The conflict can be direct (eg a potential competitor) or indirect (eg impacting work performance or Prudential's reputation).

Depending on the nature of the second job, it can also attract legal liability to Prudential. All staff members with second jobs must have their direct line manager's express permission to accept any second job regardless of whether or not it is short term, temporary, does not involve work during normal office hours or is unrelated to financial services.

3.6. Remuneration

All staff are remunerated with a mix of guaranteed pay and variable compensation (annual discretionary bonus based on performance).

All staff, including Compliance staff, also participates in an annual variable compensation pool that is driven exclusively by business profits. No staff are incentivised by means of commission driven business targets.

3.0 Business Conflict of Interest

- Sponsorships and Reciprocal Agreements
- Investment Independence
- Commission Sharing
- Fair treatment of Clients following are the key business conflicts of interest as determined by the board

4.1. Sponsorships and Reciprocal Agreements

The Company does not enter into agreements to supply investment services to a fiduciary client that includes reciprocal commercial provisions involving the client, its sponsoring employer or organisation or its consultants and advisors.

The Company may make donations or sponsorships to clients or their sponsoring employer or body, intermediaries; not-for profit organisations and social development organisations subject to:

- Prior approval by Executive Management
- The recipient organisation not being directly or indirectly associated with a political party, government body or religious organisation
- The purpose for the donation or sponsorship is defined and is not likely to negatively impact the Company or its Group's brand and reputation.

The Company does not make political donations of any kind.

4.2. Investment Independence

The Company is not associated with any Mauritius financial service company, banking institution or stockbroker or any issuer company into which we can invest or deal on behalf of clients.

4.3. Commission Sharing

The Company does not engage in the practice commonly known as “softing”. The Company does however negotiate, on behalf of its clients, bundled brokerage fees that include research and execution services. The execution services may include trading platforms and the research services include investee company research, market and bespoke research and recommendations. These services may be provided by way of software, platforms or electronic research feeds.

4.4. Fair treatment of Clients

The Company is committed to treating clients fairly and ensuring that no client receives preferential treatment that may prejudice another client.

The following specific processes exist in order to achieve and demonstrate the fair treatment of clients:

- The fair and automated allocation of trades to client portfolios
- Consolidation of orders to avoid unintended impacts of order priority
- Cross trading between client portfolios, while permitted and encouraged as a means of minimising client trading costs and maximising exposure to desired illiquid assets, is subject to the trade being performed at an established and fair market price and the group decision making model.
- The remuneration structures for client sales and services support new business and servicing without preferring specific clients within various products

4.0 Implementation and Distribution

This policy is not subject in its entirety to an initial or annual acknowledgement by all staff as the primary control for the avoidance and management of conflicts of interests is internal business processes and controls. Certain aspects of the policy impose personal obligations on staff members and these sections will be subject to active acknowledgement by all staff members.
